

How the Fund the TSA Act Protects Our Paychecks

H.R. 3394, The Fund the TSA Act, will make sure you keep your well-deserved pay raise and keep the TSA running at its full potential

This year, TSOs have finally received a well-deserved pay raise after years of being overworked and underpaid. That's thanks to the tireless efforts of AFGE Council 100 and TSOs like you. Unfortunately, those raises and our jobs are at risk if the TSA is not properly funded.

Every year, billions of dollars are collected from air travel passengers for airline security. That money is supposed to go to the TSA in order to properly pay the working people like you who keep our skies safe and to keep vital equipment up and running. Unfortunately, billions of dollars have been diverted since 2013, robbing our TSOs and the flying public.

The Fund the TSA Act will make sure those funds wind up in the hands of the TSA and in your wallet. On top of that, the bill guarantees that TSOs will be paid to work during a government shutdown.

This is a huge step in the right direction to make sure you have the pay and tools to do your important work.
